Pixart's P-mode boder displays over Pioneer's. Unfortunately, the tuner is incompatible. Other titles that may be helpful. Edit: One possibility is that the firmware on your monitor is out of date. Make sure that there are no overheating issues (which may result in the monitor going out of service for a period of time) and that the monitor is structurally sound (may also result in the monitor going out of service for a period of time) Inspect the video cable for pin damage, lint, etc. If you experience problems, please contact support and provide. Alternatively, if you use the same monitor with other devices, make sure that the firmware on those other devices is also up to date. A: Try resetting it again to factory defaults, then trying to install RockWorks. If that doesn't work, at least you'll know that there's nothing physically wrong with the monitor and that the firmware on your copy of RockWorks is out of date. At that point, you have a few options: Send it in to Pioneer. Try calibrating the monitor yourself. This can be done by downloading a calibrator like DisplayLink's DisplayLink Monitor Calibrator. Liver transplantation for hepatobiliary tumors: the Ileana Figueroa Transplant and Oncology Program (IFOTOP). We describe a single-institution experience with liver transplantation (LT) in patients with hepatobiliary tumors. From March 2001 to May 2011, 26 patients (9 men, 17 women) received a LT for hepatobiliary tumors. The mean age at transplant was 59 ± 14 (SD) years. This group was compared with our population of 34 LT recipients (16 men, 18 women) for benign liver tumors who received LT from 2000 to 2010. The anatomic allocation system of the United Network for Organ Sharing () (A-priority score and T-score) was used to divide liver grafts. With the exception of cirrhosis, etiologies for neoplastic disease were not different between the 2 populations. There was no postoperative mortality in either group. The 5-year survival rates were comparable for the groups (hepatobiliary tumor = 75%; benign liver tumors = 81%; $P = 0.63$). A greater number of complications was experienced by patients with hepatobiliary tumors compared with patients
