Rift Raccoon (aka Rift - The Raccoon) was a game I was working on at a game jam some time ago. I made a game where a trapped raccoon crawls towards the exit while Georges-Pierre Seurat Georges-Pierre Seurat, who signed himself as Seurat, was a French painter of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. He is regarded as one of the most influential and important figures in modern painting, and was an innovator and early practitioner of impressionism. Early career Seurat was born in Paris to a poor family of wine merchants. He first studied art in the studio of Felix Gaboriau. In the summer of 1886, he showed for the first time his paintings at the Salon des Artistes-peintres in Goupil & Cie., attracting little attention from the Salon jury. His early works were full of the harshness of the Academic style. His first Monstro (Monster, 1886), a depiction of an octopus with eight arms crawling out of a trunk, was shown at a local exhibition. He painted sea creatures obsessively in the ensuing years, usually in semi-abstract modes of varying detail and color, and he was influenced by the work of Franz von Bayros, a professor of botany at the University of Königsberg. He visited Bayros's Königsberg laboratory in the summer of 1890. Berthe Morisot He met the Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot at 3e33713323
