(SM) In the end of the world, the one that is coming, when the calvary of the nations have been annihilated and we know that Death is stronger than Life, will you remember that you have seen a good person, a good husband and a good father? (SM) You're never too old to show your kids that you love them and that you enjoy making their lives better. They appreciate that and they love you for that. And you appreciate that. So, it's a double-pronged thing. There's not many fathers that would have the will or the constitution to do something like this and to simply say, 'Hey, I'm just going to stay home', because that's what I think that's going to happen; mothers are going to be the primary caregiver. And they will be. ... So, we have to make a political change at a societal level, but it's going to take a combination of the two and we're ready to help. (SM) That's where we are, as a society and as men as a society. We're all mothers and fathers. And we're all employed in this society and we have to recognize that, in many cases, the female is going to be the primary caregiver. And we're d0c515b9f4
