AutoCAD has served as the standard for general CAD software since its introduction. More than 4.4 million people have purchased AutoCAD, as of October 2017. With the latest version, AutoCAD 2018, the company offers two editions: AutoCAD LT (single-user license), and AutoCAD R2019 (multiple-user license). Contents show] History In the early 1980s, Autodesk developed the first commercially available computer-aided design (CAD) software, AutoCAD. AutoCAD originally ran on the Apple II, and later on the Atari 800. The first versions were developed by a group of artists and engineers from MIT who called themselves the Sketchpad team.[1] The original team split into two groups: one working on the initial CAD technology and one on the user interface. The UI group, the Sketchpad team, went on to develop

---

AutoCAD's basic user interface, as well as others. The core team led by Dan Sandin and David Buell was developing the CAD technology. In November 1982, an Autodesk representative met with the MIT Sketchpad team and began the negotiation for AutoCAD. At the time, the MIT Sketchpad group only had four to five months to deliver the CAD technology and finish the user interface in time for the AutoCAD release date of December 1982. The deal was a 1:1 ratio, where MIT would get an equity stake in Autodesk, in exchange for Autodesk's license to develop the CAD technology, which was code-named "MDP".

MIT took title of the AutoCAD copyright.[2] AutoCAD was first sold on 6 June 1983 for $1,295. AutoCAD's successful release and adoption led to further development, and new versions of AutoCAD were released every six months. In October 1999, the company launched AutoCAD LT,[2] a version of AutoCAD for small businesses (i.e. not large organizations with many employees). AutoCAD LT is a single-user version that can only be used by one person. The user can sign up for a shared AutoCAD LT license for use by several people working on a project.

Version history

AutoCAD LT, the first version of AutoCAD released for small businesses, was a flat-rate license for $5,000, with the technology being shared between all users. These conference, captain Mahendra Singh Dhoni said that there was no point of sledging and reverting to your old “bad habit” as people are bored of it. “As a team, you should work together and not try to pull down each other.

All of us should take the responsibility of getting the team back on track,” he said. “I feel the players should speak with more respect in the press conference. We should work on improving our game. Sledging and pulling down each other is boring and not a good habit.” Dhoni, who played with two captains in the recently concluded ICC Champions Trophy, also said that Sanjay Bangar should speak with more confidence when the players speak to the media. “Sanjay (Bangar) should speak with more confidence and have a better insight into the game. It is his job, not our job. He has to speak for the team. “Bangar should speak for the team. He should speak for the confidence of the team. If someone is going to speak for the team, then they should be aware of what is going on in the team. They are the captain, they are supposed to have an insight.” Dhoni also said that there was no pressure on him while captaining India in England, as he had always been the leader in the dressing room. “Now it is (my) job and responsibility to lead the team in these two games and make sure we are all pulling in the same direction. “I think I have to take responsibility. I feel the pressure
