I created them on a new slave server and I want to replicate them from slave to master but I don't want the data online. I just want the slave to copy the tables offline, so the master should get the tables from the slave but they should not be online. Also I don't want to copy all tables on master. What is the best solution for doing this kind of replication? A: Create a slave copy of your database. Back up the slave's files. Shutdown the MySQL server on the slave copy of your database. Change the configuration so that the MySQL server only accepts connections from the master. Then kill the slave's master, which should be connecting from your network as if it were still running. Start up the MySQL server again. It will automatically use the slave copy of your database when it connects. We use cookies to enhance your experience on our website. This works perfectly fine, however, if I do have a special character in the name of the link (e.g. PAÍS), I get a broken link error. This is how I make the link: `$(".click").on("click", function() { var href = $(this).attr('href'); $(this).replaceWith(' + $(this).text() + ');`
