Borrowing the definition of an effective field in a cavity, we show that the conductivity of the plasmonic nanostructures can be determined by its interaction with the cavities. We also show that the conductivity and the dipole moment are different, and that the plasmonic nanoparticles reflect the different response of the conductivity and dipole moment.Despite the fact that a proposed ordinance to curb knife crime passed a hurdle to go to full council in the City of Ottawa, after the vote was announced, Conservative councillor Jeff Leiper declared he’d be happy if the entire city council were to be murdered. Leiper was responding to a question posed by councillor Druh Farrell (South Ottawa-Vanier), who asked whether Leiper had heard anything about a planned vote on the knives-in-the-kitchen. When the vote was announced, Leiper said, “I’ll be happy when someone is knifed in the city of Ottawa.” Leiper later said the comment was a poor attempt at humour, and that he

In the seven-year period following the end of the War of the Ancients, many of the elder races clashed in a new Age of Shadows. The Daqan Lords and other nations assembled their might to repel the threat from outside the settled lands. The nations of the western continent united to form the Dawnwall, a massive fortified wall in the frontier between the nations. They built castles, towers, and other strongholds on either side of the Dawnwall, or designed watchtowers to monitor the world. All of this prepared them for the time when the exiled survivors of the Age of Shadows returned. The Age of Shadows was over...but peace never arrived. After the war the nations of the Dawnwall formed the Alliance of Dawn. In the western continent, separate nations have fought to dominate the eastern part, sparking conflict and unrest. Meanwhile, the advent of steam technology has both propelled the development of civilization and brought out the darkness in some of the elder races. With the heritage of the ancient races, the Dawnwall, and the age-old conflict between the north and south, the world of Elden is the birthplace of many legends. It's an array of jobs, each job has a start_date in my case. I'm trying to iterate over the array and sort on a start_date, but unfortunately when it gets to the exact date of my phone's birthday or the birthday of my significant other (this has happened before), it starts messing up with the dates. I have no idea why, but for example when it gets to the birthdays of my significant other, it's like suddenly switching "day" to a "month", and for some reason it jumps up a month or so. You can see what I mean if you run this, it's crazy. var allJobs = [{ id: '0', photo: '', name: 'Job Name', company: 'Company Name', start_date: '1/1/2011', end_date: '1/25/2011', role: 'JE', status: 'Active', description: 'Job Description' }, { id: '1', photo: '', name: 'Job Name 2', company

View topic - The new fantasy action RPG game and its Trial Version seem to be out already! :) Sat, 08 Nov 2010 19:09:52 +0000Tech%20Support FORUM pizza]]>Modern technology has made photography a rather easy task. Between smartphones and apps, there is a giant variety of options for taking images. Some of these have revolutionized the way we take photos, even though most are only available in “point and shoot” form. Smartphones have made photography a lot easier. Camera apps available for the iPhone and Android (if you own either of those phones) allow for camera controls in apps. This is great because then all you need is your friends and a phone. And apps have tons of options for sharing images and printing them out. But I fell back on my strengths, and decided to photograph my friends this week using your regular old camera (although I would recommend a smartphone if you can't bring yourself to lug around your fancy DSLR). I chose my three best friends, Tom, Armon, and Trent, to be the subjects for this week's series. They were great sports about being photographed, and even posed in different ways and various ways of clothing; so even though I couldn't use many of the automated features, I pulled it off. It was a fun experience for me and I hope they'd enjoy you seeing my work on what I call their “friend walls”. I'll post them as often as possible as soon as I get a chance to upload them from the phone. I'm gonna go. Oh well, next time I'm going to take the super duper fancy phone :). We all had a great time, and had a lot of fun with this week's
