The present invention relates to an information processing apparatus, an information recording medium, a method of controlling an information processing apparatus, and a computer program product. More particularly, the present invention relates to an information processing apparatus, an information recording medium, a method of controlling an information processing apparatus, and a computer program product to be used in an environment where the security of information is important. Today, commercial transactions (electronic commerce) such as those performed over the Internet are becoming very common. In such transactions, personal information, e.g., credit card numbers or the like, which are entered by a user is used as electronic money (electronic funds). Herein, there is a technology for preventing a third party from knowing details of a user's electronic money. The details of a user's electronic money and its transactions are encrypted and stored in an information recording medium (memory). When a user purchases or uses an item, the encryption key or the like which was used to encrypt the details is changed for each transaction to be carried out, thereby preventing a third party from knowing details of a user's electronic money. However, some of the information recording media of this type have an essential function to record information (unencrypted). For example, in the case of storing data in an IC card, an unencrypted authentication key, e.g., authentication information for authenticating a regular operation is stored in a memory section. In the case of maintaining integrity of the information recording medium, it is necessary to track that the authenticity and integrity of the information recording medium have not been changed. It is also necessary to check whether the information recording medium has been copied without permission. As means for checking the integrity and authenticity of the information recording medium, there is a method of confirming that the information recording medium is in an original state by storing, in the same information recording medium, information indicating that it is in an original state (copying prevention information).

What I remember [Monday Morning] Hello everybody :) i am currently still in the indian gulf :) i just thought it's time to update my blog and tell you what I am doing atm. well I am currently still on the indian gulf. we are in the city of maldives here and i am sitting in this hotel :) i think the weather here is great and we have 3 new lands now :D I do hope the summer will continue :) and i really hope you have all been doing well xoxo chloe ♥ Okay so I'm getting my ass off the bed. I've been standing there for almost an hour now! And I can't wait to get home and shower and do my hair. I've been out here for two weeks now. I had my first two weeks off since I graduated. I've been doing practically nothing but having fun. I went for a walk at the desert. It was really fun! I really need to do it again next year, just for fun. I love that side of the world. Oh man. I went to a deserted island and it was good. It was the first time I've ever been to a deserted island. It was really exciting because I never knew what was going to happen. There were tons of jobs to do there. And it was fun cause I got to be on my own for a little bit. I've been staying at the Fort des Roses. It's beautiful. I've been swimming in the pools. It's really nice. I've also been going on rides at the Cenote. I love doing that. The good part about it is that it gives us free time since we don't have to work. I love trying out new things and I've been doing that with every day that I've been here. Oh man, the food here is amazing. I have loved every single meal. And they're so cheap too. There are only two restaurants and one of them has been closed. But I've eaten there three times. The food is really good. I love the bread they have. It's so fresh. And the butter is to die for
