RdocEx Crack+

RdocEx is a shell add-on for any version of R, and works on Linux, Mac OS X, and Windows. It is available for Fedora, RHEL, CentOS, Scientific Linux, JBoss, Ubuntu, openSUSE, Fedora Core, SuseStudio, Debian, UbuntuStudio, Mandriva, Debian, OpenBSD, and many more. How RdocEx works: This add-on was written as a shell add-on. No configuration file is needed. To use this add-on you simply need to run the commands: To install the add-on: `sudo yum install rdocex` To uninstall the add-on: `sudo yum remove rdocex` To see the commands available to you: Here are some example commands to add to your R Command Window: To see all of the examples, type: `?RdocEx` To use the `r_index` command: `R_index A`: Not exactly an add-on, but if you are referring to "recent documents", it's located in the menu "Recent Documents" and found by pressing "t". Latest News Ron Rothstein, Montreal Canadiens president of hockey operations, and Marc Bergevin, general manager, were asked about the home-and-home series with the New York Rangers last week in Montreal. The Canadiens can't afford to be flat against the Rangers' vaunted power play, Bergevin said. "I don't think there's a more efficient power play in the league," he said. "If you look at their ranks, they're higher than ours. There's probably only three or four teams that have a better power play than them. "Our power play is coming along nicely, the coaching staff is working really hard on it. They're doing a great job on practice. The young guys are being given an opportunity and more experience on the penalty kill. We're looking pretty good at the end of the year." After the Canadiens beat the Rangers 6-1 at Bell Centre on Feb. 19, Bergevin was asked if the power play would be the focus of a meeting with the coaches in Montreal. "Maybe next week," he said. "Maybe after that game." While the power play could be a focus, Bergevin was also asked about his impression of Rangers winger Rick Nash. "

What's New in the?

----- RdocEx is an experimental personal document manager. This has been developed for the purpose of being integrated into a virtual desktop environment. Documents are usually stored within a virtual desktop folder. The 'Recent Documents' menu provides a convenient way to access the documents stored within the virtual desktop. RdocEx is a command line application so there is no need to download and install any software. This is an early version so the name is likely to change. Feedback is very welcome. It is written in Ruby - see Rdoc/License for details. Features: ----- * One line command * Add documents as shortcuts to the Recent Documents menu (see 'RdocEx Description' for more details) * Files are added to your virtual desktop folder. * Documents are stored in the virtual desktop folder and added to the Recent Documents menu * Documents are added directly to the Recent Documents menu (see 'RdocEx Description' for more details) Usage: ----- RdocEx can be run at the command line as: `RdocEx [--help] [--version] [--copyright]` It is installed in a sub-folder beneath the current working directory.
