of this: I don't know how to support her. I don't know how to save her or make her happy. This is my role. It is something that I have to do. It's my job." II. "She needs someone she trusts to remind her of her worth, of the worth of these dreams, of the worth of her self. We make ourselves sicker when we don't value ourselves, when we don't value our dreams. They are not a sickness. They are the conditions of life. The living condition. It is a way of being. To be is to dream." III. "What kind of world do you want? I cannot provide it. I cannot make it happen. I cannot make you a world you want. But I can make you a world you live in: a world of possibilities. That, my friend, is our work." IV. "It's frustrating. It's infuriating. It takes time, and energy, and tenacity. It takes more faith than you have. It's when the work is heavy that you begin to see its beauty. It's when the work is heavy that you begin to realize the difference it makes."The 7th WARD Cut and paste, allowing anyone to publish, even in the unlikely event that your site stops working.
