Total Screen Recorder Flash Crack + Free Latest

Total Screen Recorder Flash is an easy to use Windows software solution designed to record screen activity and save it as a SWF or FLV file. The main window of the app is being used to display the current settings, showing you the region to record, audio settings, encoder, hotkeys, timer and file name. Of course, each of the aforementioned settings can be changed by double clicking it, and it's even highly recommended to have a look at the options menu before anything else. Because this way you can define the region to capture, which can be either the whole screen, a fixed size or a fixed region. Plus, you're allowed to enable multiple record options, such as record audio, capture mouse cursor, blink when recording and auto save recordings. Additionally, Total Screen Recorder Flash also supports hotkeys, allowing you to start, stop, pause and resume recordings by pressing a simple keyboard button. As said, the program can save the recorded content either as SWF or FLV, so there are several dedicated tools to configure these formats, including output size and quality, with separate fields to choose video and audio bitrate, audio sample rate and resolution. Total Screen Recorder Flash does an amazing job and records screen activity without hampering computer performance, remaining light on hardware resources all the time. Overall, there's no doubt that Total Screen Recorder Flash is a useful tool and thanks to the fact that it sports easy to configure features, it is safely addressed to all types of users....
