The best thing for india. New approaches are demanded in therapeutic gene delivery. Our goal is to develop new therapeutic delivery vehicles by employing a polymeric micelle as an important component.

Our strategy is to design the novel polymer with highly polar content (a high amount of ionic groups) by employing multi-armed controlled pendant groups (CAPs) which are developed in this project. In addition, the novel polymer will be designed to be utilized for various cationic polymers to achieve stealth polymer. Those cationic polymers having highly biocompatible properties have long been desired in the field of gene transfection. To achieve this purpose, the cationic moiety will be introduced onto the polymeric backbone with more bio- and copolymer property. The goal of Phase I is to develop such a novel polymer with broad application spectrum. We will synthesize a variety of derivatives of the novel polymer, carry out their characterization, and evaluate their performance in gene transfection and tumor therapy, in Phase II. PROPOSED COMMERCIAL APPLICATION: NOT AVAILABLE MAI THAI DIPLOMATIC Trader Joe's has unveiled the new Mai Thai DIPLOMATIC, with a new take on the all-American sweet sensation.
