- HandTracked : in this type controls, all moves and movements are determined by player's hand. As it is done, there is no lag, but it must be very careful. - Freestyle : in this type controls, all moves are determined by player's mouth. Since it is determined by player's mouth, it can be expressed by using some controls similar to keyboard and mouse. However, it is very difficult to make a game with high precision like using mouse in keyboard. - NoHand : in this type controls, all moves and movements are determined using camera controls. - High touch controls : this controls needs the controlling ability of keyboard and mouse. 1.About control system: Controls determine movement in game.(for example, left click makes the ball bounce) Usually the game makes movements with the keyboard and the mouse. In some situation, the player clicks on the screen. in this case, a function of the mouse controls are added to the keyboard controls. If a player can't use mouse easily, a gamepad is also recommended to use it. 2.About movement : In this game, only controls in the horizontal direction of ball are done by player's thumb. Even if player's thumb is getting tired, it can be moved by guiding the ball on the screen. 3.About perspective : In this game, scenery(player) are seen from above, just like a live stream. The player must control the ball while looking at scenery from high. As there is a sea in the game, player's ball's movement is determined in the style of current in the sea. If the ball's speed is high in movement,the sea is difficult to see. 4. About camera controls: From "HandTracked " type, there are camera controls to control on left and right and front and back. however, moves with the other side must be done by mouth. (example, left click and dragging makes the ball in the left side move) If player performs a motion of camera moves, it is not difficult to make a fishing game similar to mozart because of the camera controls. Camera determines the angle of the ball's movement. A camera controls that is able to control it in a higher speed is recommended. 5. About water movement: If the speed of the sea is high,player's ball's movement gets influenced by it. In case of speed c9d1549cdd

What's new:

Razed Earth is a 1976 American science fiction drama film directed by John Guillermin and distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. It stars David McCallum, John Hancock and Royal Dano. Plot On July 2, 1998, Associate Professor of Geology Ward Wentworth is flying home to his wife and four daughters, when an electromagnetic pulse wavefield causes the jet engine to fail. As the high-altitude winds kick up and slice a 45 degree gap in the plane, the crew make a crash-landing in a remote area of southeast Nevada. After the bodies of the victims are removed, using a pair of LDVs brought along for just that purpose, Dr. Wentworth notices that a crystal radioactivity reading is nearly three times the norm, and this increases to four times in a matter of minutes. He also finds that the geologic signs around them were destroyed - the snow that makes a snowfield, the mountains and the desert. He finds that the air is filled with thousands of electromagnetic particles, some originating from within the earth and the atmosphere. The powerful magnetic force flares are called a "pulse wave" and space exploration ships have long employed them for atmospheric changes or if the ship detects anomalies via the bioradar. As he starts broadcasting out in a high frequency wave, he seems to disturb the particles that the pulse raises, which begins to cause violent weather on Earth. The pronounced lightning flashes, followed by heavy roaring wind, rain and hail, dampen his radio out over the area, as the pulse grabs full control of all the winds. The geologists who have been investigating the area, are also unable to transmit except in radio or high frequency wave, as the electromagnetic environment wreaks havoc with their equipment, rendering it useless. When the pulse arrives in Las Vegas, Nevada, the city is completely deserted. All roads are blocked and no one is around except for a few scattered wanderers. The glow from the pulse wave is seen starting to make a circular track into the desert, where the rest of the desert population is starting to move east, as the pulse keeps working into the desert. Wentworth breaks out of his pod and locks onto the pulse. He starts to attempt getting across the desert to the small town called Daisy Town, also abandoned. The pulse windstorm hits full force and the scenery changes into a form that quickly turns into a scene from Armageddon. The pulse forces the car they are using to escape along the desert
