The story for the latest round is the story of a girl named Elsa, whose father is a musician, and his biggest success to date has been the violin-piano piece Els parens so fort at la qual tractats el piano, by JoanÂ . The pathos and excitement of the evening allowed me to communicate the things I was interested in, even though I was not going to play solo, but with the symphony orchestra. Much more than a performance, the project also is a way of listening to the instruments play and making the music more deeply connected, I think. I am very happy to see that in the past two years, the symphony has learned a lot and has developed many new projects and series. It will make me look back on my time here as a success. I started my studies at Breda University as a flute student in the flute chamber orchestra, then moved to the modern chamber orchestra where I had a permanent place, andÂ . through a professorship at the ISTI. It was then that I started to study conductingÂ . I'm very happy to be part of this year's symphonic orchestra and to have a true partnership with them.
