"The Periodic Table is the most important and fundamental guide to understanding chemistry, life and the natural world. The Periodic Table has been used to describe and explain the natural world for over a century. It has survived many scientific revolutions and has withstood the test of time. " The management of glottic carcinoma of the larynx. Sixty-six patients with carcinoma of the glottis treated between the years 1970 to 1975 at a glottic cancer center were reviewed. Histologic findings revealed 43 (67%) squamous cell carcinoma, nine (14%) keratinizing squamous cell carcinoma and eight (13%) keratoacanthoma. Follow-up studies indicate a 50% five-year survival. Five-year survival rates were 50% in stages I and II, 42% in stage III, and 20% in stage IV. The main determinants of patient survival were extent of disease at presentation and the histologic subtype of cancer. Patients with glottic carcinoma of the lower one-third of the larynx had a better chance of survival when the tumor was seen and treated within two years of its clinical manifestation. Strategic Leadership and the “Doing”. An Efficient Experience, and Insights for a Flexible Future Strategic Leadership. Since 2000, Strategic Leadership has been the systematic practice of managing the organization using available resources and effective strategies to achieve desired results. Regardless of the size of an organization, over each day we are confronted with many challenges of which some are near term and others are longer term. Defined by its focus, Strategic Leadership provides this essential service to help organizations achieve their objectives to succeed in their environment, to meet the expectations of their stakeholders, and to prepare for their long term future. We call this service “Strategic Leadership” because it is the organization’s ability to master the art of being effective in its environment and to meet its goals. Being strategic means that the organization, as well as individual employees, are conscious of the future of the organization, and are capable of anticipating future events which impact on its results. In doing this, the need for purpose and organization is the key. Purpose is the central enabling factor that enables an organization to become effective in its environment. It is the strategic idea 3a67dffec
