Informa PLC's registered office is 5 Howick Place, London SW1P 1WG. Registered in England and Wales. Number 8860726. 2 Weeks, 2 Husks I was inspired by this cool graph to explore the difference between two common varieties of kernel corn. The x-axis is the number of days from planting until the cob was harvested. The y-axis is the percentage of husk left. The first variety is "striped yellow". This was planted in the snow in the middle of October and harvested two weeks later. It's of the most sweetest corn in the world. I know, because I'm eating it. The next variety is "cob corn". This was planted early May and was harvested right after planting. It makes better dog food. In all, the cob corn was harvested 10% shorter than the striped yellow. And the cob had 50% less husk. You'll see a couple of big surprises in the graph. First, the striped yellow has almost as much husk as the cob corn. Second, the cob corn had almost as much husk as the cob corn that was planted in the middle of May. Just for fun, I tried planting a third variety in the middle of May. This one is "triple yellow". It's almost identical to the striped yellow variety in the first couple of weeks. Then by week c6a93da74d
