August 2, 2017 - This makes me a little sad, one of my favorite things to do in Rome 1 and similar games was fiddling with console commands. Mostly I did it to get extra time, but in this game I did it to take screenshots and record videos. As I said earlier, I have noticed that many of the screenshots look amazing compared to what I got in my game. I found that I have two different keys for saving the game, one for saving game progress and the other for saving videos. So I wanted to know if this is possible. I tried to do this many times but it always failed.
